LETTER

SIR:

This will confirm the telephone discussion between the examiner and the undersigned which took place on November 14.

On November 12, applicants undersigned representative telephoned the examiner regarding a notice of non-compliance with sequence rules. The reason for the call was that applicants had filed a request to transfer the CRF of sequences from a related application, together with paper copy, as of the time of filing. Hence, they are of the view that the notice issued incorrectly. As November 12 was a federal holiday, a message was left on the examiner's answering machine.

On November 14, the examiner returned the telephone call, but indicated that she could not address the question, because she did not have the file, and did not know when she would get it.

If applicants have not heard from the examiner in two weeks, they will contact the examiner again or, if unsuccessful, the supervisory primary examiner.

Respectfully submitted,
